PROMOTIONAL SUPPORT

We can help market the TPLO procedure and your practice.

We Market for You

TPLOanswers.com will refer pet owners by zip code to a qualified veterinarian who can perform a DePuy Synthes Vet TPLO.

Client Brochures

We provide your practice with complementary TPLO brochures that you can hand out to your clients or referring veterinarians. Our TPLOanswers brochure contains useful information for the pet owner, including a description of the TPLO procedure, along with expected results. The brochure also points the pet owner to TPLOanswers.com for more information.

TPLOanswers.com

TPLOanswers.com provides comprehensive educational materials for pet owners.

Visit TPLOanswers.com for information and educational videos to address your clients' questions, from injury to postoperative care.

EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES

We provide education and research support throughout your career.

Education Support

We offer continuous support throughout your career. It starts with synthesresident.com, an online education program offering modules available to US surgical interns, residents, and fellows. Points can be earned towards textbooks with each training module completed.

Additionally, we offer numerous hands-on sawbones and cadaver labs and continue to support AO educational events.

Staff Training

Based on need and location, we can offer customizable education for you and your staff, including webinars, in-person training and OR support materials (technique guides, screw charts, and templates).

Sponsorship of Education and/or Research Activities

An educational grant and/or research sponsorship program is available for eligible and approved proposals.
